Peter Dublinski -

classical guitar

Peter moved to NZ four years ago from his native Hungary and is already well-known to audiences here. He performs and teaches in Auckland, and we are delighted to have this opportunity to hear his colourful playing - a concert of contrasts and beauty by a modern master of guitar.

Sorrow and scarlet leaf

Sad thoughts and sunny weather.

Ah me, this glory and this grief

Agree not well together

So wrote Thomas Parsons, in 1880, of the ambivalence of Autumn.

We all know the mixture of relief and regret at the shortening days and the falling temperatures, combined - for those who observe it in the southern hemisphere - with the mixed emotions of the season of Lent.

Good music has a genius for addressing and resolving the ambivalence of life. Welcome to this new concert series, in which we will find much to nourish all our emotions through the weeks of the scarlet leaves.
